A tribute from the Friends of Acton COA

Jean Bachman was the ultimate volunteer: Loyal, dependable, committed to the cause. Whether, she was volunteering at Emerson Hospital, the Acton Pantry, serving on executive boards of the Acton Friends of the COA or Acton Woman's club, or caring for friends, she did it with style and efficiency . We have lost a treasured humanitarian.

A Message from the Friends of Acton COA

www.friendsofacton.com

In recent weeks, to keep active, we did chores that in normal times we found excuses not to do—organizing a closet, cleaning out drawers and the car. The button batteries we found are still being collected by the Friends for recycling. Hold on to them for now but when things get back to normal you can find collection boxes at the following locations: Acton Pharmacy, Acton Nursing Services, Acton Senior Center, Town Hall-Board of Health, Transfer Station, Public Safety Building and the Memorial and West Acton Citizens Libraries.

This is the final year of the Friends Button Battery Recycling Program.

DPH Public Health Advisory: Stay-at-Home Advisory for Individuals over 70 and for those with underlying health conditions; and Safe Practices for the General Public Individuals in the Commonwealth should always practice social distancing, this means keeping a distance of 6 feet between you and the other person.

Staying home means:

- Only leave your home to address essential needs, get some fresh air and exercise, and if you do, avoid unnecessary contact with other individuals.
- You should still run essential errands such as going to the grocery store or pharmacy but should practice social distancing when shopping. If you are at high-risk, you should inquire about your local pharmacy/grocery store's alternative hours for high risk individuals.
- When going to the pharmacy you should fill your prescriptions for 90 days if possible; for some medications this is not allowed. If you are at high-risk, you should try to use a mail-order service.
- You can still go to the gas station, order and pick up take-out food and receive deliveries (e.g Amazon, UPS, Fedex).
- You can still go outside to get fresh air, however, you must practice social distancing while outside and avoid touching surfaces frequently touched by others.
- You are encouraged to use remote modes of communication such as telephone or video chat (e.g. Facetime, Skype, Facebook Messenger Video Chat) instead of visiting friends or family. This is especially true for a hospital, nursing home, skilled nursing facility, or other residential care setting.
- Non-essential medical care like eye exams, teeth cleaning, and elective procedures must be rescheduled.
- If possible, health care visits should be done remotely.
- Parents should not arrange play dates for children during this time.
- All individuals must eliminate close contact activities such as in pick-up sports games.

You can call the Board of Health on 978-929-6632 if you wish to report any issues with contravention of the current guidelines.

- Repeated shaking with chills
- Muscle pain

Coping with Staying at Home During the Pandemic

- Set a personal schedule. Consider this if you are struggling with the seemingly endless amount of free time or if you feel you are spending way too much time in front of the television. Sticking to a routine and feeling productive can help you feel you are progressing and foster a sense of hope.
- Exercise every day to stay active but also to help with your emotional well-being. See page 4 for information on participating in COA fitness classes remotely.
- Focus on the uplifting. The more you see, think and do that promotes positivity, happiness and peace, the more it can elevate your mood. Call or video chat with a friend who always makes you feel good, take a break from the news coverage and read a book or poetry that you adore or write in a gratitude journal, look at or organize your family photographs to be reminded of better times and for the feeling of accomplishment, or watch some funny pet videos.
- If you are able, get outside every day! Walk around the neighborhood, work in the garden, chat with a neighbor (from at least six feet away), or meditate on your deck.
- Remind yourself daily that you are doing your part to protect yourself from illness and helping lessen the spread of Coronavirus.
- Focus on times in the past when you showed personal resilience. You have likely survived major events like 9/11, nasty blizzards and significant economic downturns. Remind yourself daily you are resilient!
- Eat healthy! It's tempting to eat lots of comfort food during this time, but be sure to balance that with some healthy alternatives. This is made more challenging when getting fresh produce may be difficult. If you do shop, purchase some "sturdy" fresh fruit and vegetables (apples, citrus, broccoli, onions, celery, potatoes).

- Practice Random Acts of Kindness. Use social media, texting or email to send positive messages to people who have had a significant role in your life. Or send a letter or handmade card through the mail to re-connect with someone! Order gift cards from local businesses that you can use in the future or gift them to someone special. If you do go out for essential shopping or to pick up a prescription, tell the workers how much you appreciate what they are doing.

- Take a daily personal inventory. Focus or write down what you accomplished, learned or are grateful for each night. This process helps dilute negative thoughts and remind you that not everything is bad or depressing.
- Make gifts for someone to give to them when it is safe to do so. Not crafty? Compile favorite family recipes to give to your grandchildren, put together a family history with photographs for your family, record yourself reading a favorite story out loud for young grandchildren.
